

YES, I WANT TO SUPPORT TSANZ TO IMPROVE LUNG HEALTH!

BENEVOLENT FUND

The Benevolent Fund supports philanthropic activities aimed at improving respiratory health care. This is not a research program. Funding must be used for philanthropic activities to improve respiratory health care in settings where resources and delivery are poor. For example, the purchase of equipment, the implementation of training for health care professionals or patients, or direct patient programs would qualify for this funding.

RESEARCH

Respiratory health research struggles to gain government funding, even though more than 1 in 4 Australians have a chronic respiratory condition and hospitalisations are increasing. Donations are used to support research in respiratory health.
